BALLOTS MAILED

Trainmen Withdraw With Protest; Send Out Separate Voting Papers.

Chicago.—The apparent break in the harmony that has existed among the big four brotherhoods and the switchmen's union in connection with the mailing out of strike ballots to the membership, was minimized Monday by official details here.

Strike ballots were mailed out to 50,000 railroad workers Sunday and Monday, but the vote of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, comprising about 150,000 workers, went on a separate ballot. The trainmen withdrew because their officers explained, the ballot distributed by the other four organizations "did not, in our opinion, contain an impartial and unbiased recital of all that is involved, nor did it convey the assurance that the wishes of the men, if genuine working for reduced wages, would determine the question and that they would be permitted to leave the service."

The joint ballot declared that if the members voted to reject the wage reduction, it was understood they would be permitted to withdraw from the service of their companies. "Unless satisfactory settlement can be reached under the laws of the organization," the wage reductions authorized by the United States Railroad Labor board in July averaged about 12 percent, an estimated annual saving to the railroads of about $400,000,000.

Some union leaders asserted Monday that, in their opinion, it was not a wage reduction, but working rules and accretions that would be the final bone of contention, particularly the time and a half for overtime clause recently restricted by the railroad labor board.

Irish Cabinet
Delays Reply

Dublin.—The delay in sending a reply to the latest message from Lloyd George—for it is believed the cabinet already has decided what it will say—has caused much curiosity here and in London. The refusal of the republican cabinet to be rushed by Mr. Lloyd George.

News from London Monday morning said the British government had decided on a general election should the Irish cabinet refuse its offer. Should this occur, although it is not expected here it will become necessary, the Sinn Féin would nominate a candidate in each constituency for the imperial parliament, under the home rule act, and as these candidates undoubtedly would be elected, could put this forward as a plebiscite on the British terms.

The disturbances in British India are being made much of here and the belief is expressed in high Sinn Féin circles that England will find herself so busy there that she will be willing to leave Ireland alone.

SEAPLANE MAKES RECORD FLIGHT

Peoria, Ill.—The seaplane Santa Maria, said to be the largest flying boat on American waters, was launched Monday after a record flight from Chicago late Sunday. The plane will remain at Peoria several days. From there Santa Maria will follow the Illinois and Mississippi rivers to the Gulf of Mexico and thence to Vera Cruz, stopping at Memphis and New Orleans.

SPECIAL DELIVERY IN CANADA NOW $20

Increase to 20 cents in the rate of special delivery letters to various points in Canada, is announced in a bulletin from the postoffice department received Monday by Postmaster J. J. Cunningham. The rate was formerly 10 cents. The United States has been increasing the rate in this country for this special service to 25 cents and will watch closely the experiment of the Canadian government. Postmaster Cunningham is against an increase in the rate as he believes it will handicap business.

700 Insurgents,
Many Europeans
Killed in India

Calicut, India.—Nearly 700 members of the insurgent bands which have been creating disorders in the district south and southeast of this city, have been killed in fighting with British forces sent to quell the uprising.

Several Europeans have been killed, while 70 men of the Leinster regiment and 17 native policemen are missing. Many Hindus have been massacred.

Indian troops are being brought southward from Cannanore to quell the uprising of the Moplah tribes around Ponani.

British troops, including cavalry, arrived here from Bangalore Sunday and proceeded to the disturbed area.

Numerous refugees who have arrived here from the Ernad district relate pitiful tales of torture and looting. It appears the rebels have deserted Tanur and other places and have taken to the hills.

Lord Reading, Who Only
Recently Became Viceroy

London.—Reports Monday from the revolutionary area of Malabar, British India, indicating that British troops and cavalry had arrived there, tended to confirm the belief in London that the uprising would be confined to this area, although none would deny the seriousness of the situation or its potentialities for spread.

The revolutionary area is more or less isolated from the other portions of India which might be expected to lend co-operation in the movement if any were forthcoming, but it would not surprise official circles here, if at least the fanatical Mohammedans along the northern frontier should take this occasion to write another chapter in their almost continuous warfare against the British.

PERSHING SPEAKS TO 32ND VETERANS

A. E. F. Commander Appears in "Civies"; Elaine in Address.

Detroit.—General J. J. Pershing, appearing, he announced, in civilian attire out of respect for the civilian soldiers advanced 7000 former members of the 32nd division (Wisconsin and Michigan troops) Monday in annual meeting here. The commander in chief was the guest of the veterans at a reception, following his speech.

Officers of the 32nd Division Association will be seen today and Tuesday morning the men will hold their parade.

Gov. John J. Elaine of Wisconsin addressed the convention Monday. The pushing forward of material achievements of civilization and the building of great industrial structures, the back of material development, progress, and the progress of the most worthy objects to accomplish, he said, "is the spiritual struggle for the attainment of service in peace time, back of material development and achievements, that are so necessary to halt our boundless energy and make possible the achievements and goal of social effort."

MADISON WANTS CONVENTION.

Madison.—An attempt is being made by Governor Blaine and the Association of Commerce of Madison to have this city selected for the next reunion of the 32nd division. The second reunion is now being held at Detroit, Mich.

In reply to a telegram from the postmaster, asking if Madison would be prepared to care for the veterans of the Association of Commerce, he replied it could provide facilities for entertainment and housing for the men.

The adjutant general has offered national guard equipment if needed.

3 PCT. INTEREST ON
P. O. SAVINGS, FAVORED

Postmaster J. J. Cunningham is in favor of the contemplated increase in the interest rate on postal savings to 3 percent and the allowing of interest for money loaned to the government for less than a year.

He believes it will induce the people to bring the money from their stockpiles and loan it to the government," said Mr. Cunningham. "Postmaster General Will Hays is exactly right in asking congress to raise the rate to 3 and allow interest on short periods. I believe it would tend to increase the postal savings on deposit in our postoffice here which have been gradually dropping off."

French in the alleged "swindle ring," members of the schemes of his $500,000,000 organization, may turn state's evidence, was indicated Monday when Worthington asked permission to appear in court when French is arraigned.

District Attorney Clinnin indicated Worthington appears to believe he has been double-crossed by French and is willing to help the state for revenge.

The American Rubber company, one of the $2,000,000 concerns organized by French and of which Worthington is president, and another of the alleged "swindle ring," members of the schemes of his $500,000,000 organization, may turn state's evidence, was indicated Monday when Worthington asked permission to appear in court when French is arraigned.

CHILDREN THROG

day; Weather Ideal for Expo.

Madison.—More than 25,000 children passed through the gates at the state fair grounds up to 1 p. m. Monday, the opening, it was estimated unofficially. This compares favorably with the morning attendance at any previous fair.

The clouds that had obscured the sun early in the day disappeared about 9 a. m., and thereafter the weather was almost perfect.

A point of interest was the educational building, in which were exhibited the work of children from all parts of the state.

A survey Sunday disclosed better ground conditions, improved appearance of exhibits and equipment, and a greatly increased attendance for visitors. Chief among the latter are the rest room for women back of the fair headquarters and accommodations for 1,500 lodging quarters for visitors. TOT KILLED WHEN
STRUCK BY TRAIN

Delavan Scene of Fatal Accident; Engineer Is Exonerated.

Delavan.—While playing on the railroad tracks here Saturday night Geraldine Callahan, 4 years old, was struck by the Milwaukee road train due here at 8:22 p. m. The child suffered a fractured skull and died 48 hours later.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan, Chicago, former residents of Delavan and well known here. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan, with their daughter and two sons, had been camping at Delavan last night and drove in Saturday afternoon to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Shanahan, Fifth street, but four rods from the railroad tracks.

The parents believed the children were playing in the back yard until they heard the shriek of the train whistle and the grinding of brakes as it came to a sudden stop. Rushing out they found their daughter fatally injured. Engineer Cavey, who piloted the train, was grief-stricken when he found the child was the daughter of an old friend. He was completely exonerated. Cavey is a brother of Martin Cavey, station agent at Delavan.

The child is survived by the parents and two brothers. Funeral services were held Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Andrew's church. The Rev. J. J. Shanahan officiating, with burial in the Catholic cemetery.

"The next time any 'rubber neck' is found in this court, he will spend 20 days in the workhouse."

Asks That Korea be Heard at Conference

Dr. Syngman Rhee.

Washington, D. C.—All doubt that a vigorous effort to have the Korean problem considered in President Harding's conference on limitation of armament and far eastern problems, was removed Sunday night when Dr. Syngman Rhee, head of the so-called republic of Korea, returned to Washington after a year in the orient.

He will act as head of a mission to seek for Korean rights at the disarmament conference. The Koreans will seek participation in the conference on the ground that, as their problems are undoubtedly devastated in that of the far east, no conference intended to discuss Pacific problems would be complete without consideration of the Korean issue, which in the last year has resulted in clashes between Koreans and Japanese.

It is expected Japan will resist vigorously all attempts by the Koreans to have a part, or even a hearing in the Washington conference, and will rather insist that Korea be annexed, only Tokyo is qualified to act for the Korean population.

Cummings had been on the police force only one month. He is survived by his widow.

He had been unable to attend a council meeting since May, although he maintained an active interest in public affairs throughout his illness.

Other city officials expressed sorrow at his death.

SOUR NOTES IN CHOIR; PASTOR
BUMPS "PILLAR"

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hudson, Mich.—Muscular Christianity was manifested when the Rev. C. H. Myers knocked down a statue of the Baptist church, after he had been fired as pastor at what he says, was a packed meeting, and the distribution of handbills, nooses to other trustees, a few of the causes which has split the church in two factions and promise to finish it.

The row started when two of the women members of the church choir said to have been sharply reprimanded by Mrs. Myers and her two daughters, directors of the choir, for "sour" notes in their singing, and failed to nonattendance at rehearsals.

The husbands of the two singers are then said to have packed the congregation at Wednesday's prayer meeting and called a surprise vote on Mr. Myers. He was expelled. He retaliated by leaving the pulpit and knocking down a statue of the church.

A temporary court injunction was then obtained by the minister from acting in the future. Mr. Myers retaliated by securing an injunction prohibiting the trustees from hiring a new minister.

In the meantime, friends of the pastor have been busy, and the trustees one morning found nice knotted ropes on their front piazza—ropes such as hangmen use.

GERMAN CABINET
IN TIGHT, PINCH
TWIXT FACTIONSASSASSINATION OF ERZ-
BERGER CHANGES
SITUATION.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin.—Political conditions in Germany which, during the past few days have assumed a grave aspect, were considered by the cabinet Monday. President Ebert presided.

The assassination of Herr Erzberger last Friday, has appeared to have set a match to the piled up combustible smoldering for some time, and the cabinet is believed to find itself in a serious predicament.

One of the features of the situation is the attitude of organized labor, supported by the socialist and communist parties, in demanding the definite suppression of the activities and machinations of the pan-Germans.

Pan Germans Active.

This party has been unusually active of late, holding brutally anti-semitic "steel helmet" marches, "front" troop re-unions" and other affairs at which Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff, and other military leaders have been present. These functions have, for the most part, taken on the character of anti-republican manifestations.

The government must decide in the next few days, whether it will call the reichstag into session before Sept. 27, the date fixed for that body to meet. There is a disposition on the part of Chancellor Wirth not to take this action because of his desire to avoid debate on the American peace treaty, before that pact is ratified by the United States senate. The government would be unable to prevent such debate, in view of the overhead political atmosphere engendered by the murder of Herr Erzberger.

Would Attack Treaty.

It is a foregone conclusion that the nationalists if the reichstag should convene would make Janesville a better city. He devoted considerable time to his work as alderman until he was taken ill. He had been unable to attend a council meeting since May, although he maintained an active interest in public affairs throughout his illness.

Praise from Mayor.

"The council, and the city as a whole have suffered a distinct loss in the death of Alderman Smith," said Mayor T. E. Welsh Monday. "A man of high character and a most interesting citizen. He was a man of things, rapidly and showed an earnest desire to work for the interests of the city."

Other city officials expressed sorrow at his death.

VAULT CUSTODIANS
HELD BY POLICE

$250,000 Masonic Temple Rob-

Chief.

[By Associated Press.]
Chicago.—A raid on the safe deposit vaults of the Security Safe deposit company in the Masonic Temple Sunday night, by four masked robbers, netted the bandits about $250,000, it was estimated Monday.

The robbers, who are credited with perpetrating one of the boldest crimes in Chicago's history, escaped after a leisurely search of 17 safety deposit boxes although, they overtook $10, 000 in thousand dollar bills, in one box.

Monday, Chief of Detectives Blusches, characterized the affair as an inside job, and held the two custodians of the vaults who, he said, told centrally the robbers. Three other suspects have been taken into custody.

The four robbers, well dressed, appeared at the vaults about 8 o'clock.
One of them applied for a safety deposit box and then asked to see it.
When the doors to the vaults were opened the robbers bound the custodians and then proceeded, with lead bullet, to open several boxes.

They were fired on when leaving the bank more than an hour later, but escaped unhurt.

The safety deposit vaults, advertised as the safest in the city, are kept open day and night.

IS MISDIRECTED

Carelessness of Addressing
Letters Causes Clerks
Much Trouble.

An actual count in one day last week at the post office here showed 15,000 pieces of first class mail handled. Of this number there were 1,500 pieces of mis-directed mail.
This is the average for every day in the year.

Postmaster J. J. Cunningham has had figures compiled which show that 1,500 pieces of mail coming into Janesville for distribution daily are without street number, lock-box number or general delivery. In many cases delay in delivery is necessarily caused by the failure of the users of the mail to put on a street and number as a part of the address.

One clerk is kept busy all the time at the local post office searching the directories and otherwise investigating to try to make delivery of mis-directed mail or those which do not have sufficient information in the address to secure prompt delivery. A large amount of time of carriers is taken up in doing office work and on their regular delivery routes because of the carelessness of patrons.

In New York City, it is said, that 500,000 pieces of mis-directed mail
are received daily or more than 127, 000,000 annually. The postmaster at Grand Rapids, Mich., estimates that 5,000 pieces daily that are mis-directed are handled there and 20,000 are received without street addresses.

Miss Anna Maraden, Madison, who was a guest at the Field cottage up the river last week, has returned home, accompanied by Miss Esther Pfeild.

Museum Head
Here to Get Stolen Relics

Charles E. Brown, head of the Wisconsin state museum in the university library at Madison, was in Janesville, Saturday, to inspect curios and relics taken from Arthur Gramm, 16, and Raymond Opalinski, 15, following their arrest here Wednesday.

Although Mr. Brown could identify but a few pieces of the assortment in Gramm's traveling bag, he was allowed to take all of them back to Madison, where efforts will be made to determine ownership.
Mr. Brown believes many of the relics were stolen from other museums although the two boys, now held at Madison, insist all the articles were belonging to the state collection representing their savings of several years having been purchased jointly from Chicago shops.

Mr. Brown and G. R. Moore, 615
North Pearl street, local curio collector, looked over the array of precious antiques Saturday at local police headquarters. Neither would venture any estimate as to the value of the assortment, but intimated the boys were not far off when they said they could get $500 for the things.

Moscow—Seven American relief administration workers, headed by Philip Carroll of Portland, Oregon, arrived here Monday afternoon, to organize the work of feeding the Russian famine-stricken masses. In company with them were 32 A. R. C. representatives, the International Red Cross, sending an agreement Monday with Lao Kamenoff, head of the Russian famine relief commission, in which the international Red Cross agrees to do relief work on virtually the same terms as the American relief administration.

COUNTY IN RACE
FOR STATE PRIZE

Boosters Say Rock County Will Again Capture Sweepstakes.

Rock county hopes to again carry off premier honors at the state fair which opened at Milwaukee Monday, seeking to maintain the record set last year when the grand sweepstakes premium for all departments was brought home by farmers of this county. Judging from the quality of the exhibits entered from Rock county, it is freely predicted that last year's performance will be repeated.

The county will get scale-wide advertising during the fair this week through a scheme being worked out by County Agent R. T. Glasco, who went to Milwaukee, Monday, to attend the fair for two or three days.
He will post large cards, "This exhibit from Rock County," on every display from this county.

The best in Rock county's livestock will be on exhibit throughout the week. Such well known breeders of pure blood stock as E. H.

SCHOOL BOARDS
May Borrow

District school boards have the right to borrow money up to half the levy made under a law passed by the 1931 legislature, County Supt.
O. D. Antisel advises. This eliminates the necessity of getting a vote of the entire school district whenever money is needed for immediate expenses.

Following is the text of the new law, an amendment to section 40.25:
"The school board of any school district operating under the district system may on their own motion, made and properly recorded at a lawful board meeting, borrow money in such sums as are needed to meet the immediate expenses of maintaining the school or schools in such district. No such loan or loans shall be made to extend beyond the time of collection of the taxes levied by the electors nor to an amount exceeding one-half the levy so made.
All such loans shall be secured by lawfully authorized and drawn school orders, each order when paid to be receipted and returned to the treasurer of the board."

Parker & Son, J. J. McCann, John
L. Fisher, W. G. Miles, and Frank
Arnold & Son, will have exhibits.

PACKARD

The immense and growing popularity of the Packard Single-Six is due, first, to the car's inherent quality, and second, to the superior character of its performance. In action it is powerful and reliable; its pick-up is swift and strong; its riding qualities are little short of amazing. Already, more than 4,000 Single-Sixes are in the hands of owners, delivering traditional Packard service at exceedingly low cost. Originally the Packard Single-Six touring car was priced at $3640;
it is now $2975, f. o. b. Detroit.

YOU CAN SAFELY EXPECT FROM THE PACKARD SINGLE-SIX A YEARLY AVERAGE OF 17 MILES OR BETTER TO THE GALLON OF GASOLINE, 2,000 MILES OR

*Famous Speed Engine, With World Record, Now
Pulling Slow Passenger*

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Jacksonville, Fla.—Pulling a slow local passenger train in Georgia is the "ten wheeler" which one day twenty years ago towed the heaviest load that any steam locomotive ever built, 120 miles an hour.

This engine, now Atlantic Coast Line No. 210, was Plant System No. 111 when it set the world's record for sprinting. At the same time it won a United States mail contract between Washington, D. C., and Jacksonville.

The Seaport Air line and the tem and No. 111 became A. C. L. No. 210. There is nothing out of the ordinary in the design of the engine and it is of the typical "ten wheel" type, three pairs of drivers and four pony truck wheels. She has nineteen inch cylinders with a stroke of twenty-eight inches, seawater driving wheels and a boiler pressure of 180 pounds. The engine weighs 150,500 pounds. Her rated tractive power is 21,450 pounds.

Speedy Bit of Track.

The old Plant System track between Savannah and Jacksonville is Atlantic Coast Line Plant System in March 1901, were conducting tests under observation of postal authorities. Each road, it was agreed, should run three trains to determine which could handle the Florida and Cuban mail the quicker. It was while pulling the third test train between Savannah and Jacksonville that No. 1, the Jacksonville, Florida, and Atlantic Coast Line took over the Plan System a special train was handled at a rate of 105.6 miles an hour. This instance was on March 9, 1901 when a train chartered by the fam-road by her numbers and still sent from lack of use, unexpectedly set its record that still stands.

New Engine Out.
Shortly after leaving Savannah, No. 107, a new locomotive, assigned to the route, with a fuel tank box and the Seaboard test train passed it at Burroughs, eleven miles out, the two railroads paralleling to that point.
At Fleming, 23 miles from Savannah, No. 107 was still experiencing trouble and when passenger train No. 102, southbound, with engine No. 111 in charge of engineer Lodge, overtook the test train, officials substituted the 111 for the 107.
The engine then took the road between Fleming and Jacksonville and instructed Lodge to push his engine to the limit.
A few more years ago destroyed the records on the run between Fleming and Waycross but reports show that No. 111 made the run in 59 minutes, an average speed of 78 miles an hour.

Engineer Thomas Leake, in charge of the gold pulping, said the average miles between Walhalla and McIntosh, Ga., in four minutes, expressed 16 1/2 miles an hour.

GOLD PROSPECTING FAVORITE OUTDOOR AUSTRALIAN SPORT
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Melbourne.—[Prospecting for gold is one of the favorite outdoor sports of the Australians. It may be enjoyed only a few miles beyond the boundaries of the larger cities, and there are still many eager prospectors who hunt for surface gold. This is attested by their frequent success.
Thirty miles from this city two prospectors have obtained a quantity of $1,200 worth of gold, obtained from the quartz; and during their sojourn on the mine site realized $5,000 worth of gold.
Therefore, it is also available.

and thirty seconds.
No. 112 arrived at the Union Station in Jacksonville ahead of the Seaboard test train and the Atlantic Coast Line Plant System was awarded the mail contract.
Some time later the Atlantic Coast Line absorbed the Plant Sys-

CHAPTER VIII.
THE CHAIRMAN.
The informal little dinner was the opening, for me, into the life of Wellsville. I adored every bit of the little place. I had never been so happy in my life.
Winthrop did come, as he suggested, and I took him out in my car. We drove for miles and miles over the roads in the late afternoon when he had finished his office work. For he had little town they worked until nearly 6, and 6 was the only proper hour for dinner—up supper as some called it. I thought it was a main meal of the day. This surprised me at first, for at my aunt's we never dined before 8, and a formal dinner was 10, and I was used to the theatre. But I was glad of the early hour for it gave us much more evening.
And in the evenings I liked to sit out in a big open hammock, with a lawn, with a few bushes and shrubs, and while the evening star made such a lovely bit of silver in the sky. In fact, there was nothing I liked better than to sit under my hammock, looking up and up into the blue-black of the summer night and watching the myriad of stars above me. I was so comfortable in the city we never noticed them.
One evening I said something like this to Winthrop. We were in a drive—a wonderful drive. He had come around for me after his early supper and we started off in my car, as we did now every other evening. I had kept my promise and taught him to drive, and on Saturday afternoon I showed him how the engine worked. For my aunt had made me learn very thoroughly before she allowed me a machine.
We drove five miles out to a great hill and took the winding road to the top. I liked this arrangement. I had had more time to look about. Then, from houses were so quaint, the tall fences that zig-zacked around the fields amused me so much, the children looked so chubby and dear as we passed them.
From the top of the hill we caught the sunset, and watched its perfect glory dim into a soft orange radiance. Then we drove back, and the hills were turned blue and gray around us. And Win put the car up. And as I sat curled up in a corner of the hammock, while Win sat on a cushion on the grass. Father had a letter in his room, otherwise the night was soft and dark.
There are too many lights on the city streets to see the stars. I remarked. "If one looks up, there is a

Business With a Big B

Quaintly, like a frightened butterfly's wings, the long lashes of Edna Spark fluttered low until the blue of eyes could be seen only in little glances. The boss was scolding her again.
"Which as it pains me, I must call your attention once more to your persistence in making or amplifying my dictation," complained young Mr. Baker.
"Where you have me saying: 'It was a pleasure to hear from you. I trust our correspondence will redound to mutual profit.' I didn't dictate that. Once before you stuck in the same words. There is no room in a business letter for such sweet stuff."
"Yes, sir," faltered Edna May. "I thought you forgot the polite conclusion. It was only done in your interest."
"That I appreciate, but in future letters for that my letters are typed as I dictate them. I dictate slowly, to think everything out. Please don't make it necessary for me to speak to you again."
Edna May was indignantly helpful, however. Young Mr. Baker might have appreciated this but for a complication over which we would like to linger with tantalizing phrases. But we'll only give you space to say: Edna May was a dream—fairer than the "Bly" maid of "Anastasia"—oh, a peach! Therefore, Mr. Baker had to tell himself lightly or he would have come all unbound. Also, he firmly believed she corrected his letters to let him know that he was no hero to her, to intimate that a dub like him was no hero in her class. Love is no blind, blind of Avon. Love is woozy.
A week hence, when she again inquired, "It was a pleasure to hear from you, this time in an era of the bluest customers. Mr. Baker thought it a great moral victory that he fired her. Edna May flew home heartbroken. They had to mail her check to her, and Mr. Baker addressed her masterfully as "Dear Madam" in the letter.
Many young women were tried out before Mr. Baker's polished and polished Miss Spark had done a lot more to his letters than he could do without her. How roused and flustered he was when she came.

The boss was scolding her again.

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott

THE EXPLOIT OF PIONEER SCOUT ANDREW JOE

Andrew and Adam Joe, two brothers, were scouts in the pioneer days of Ohio. One day when the boys were leading a party on the trail of a band of Indians who had raised the settlements, they left their men to try to locate the savages. The brothers became separated, and the larger river Andrew came upon a giant Wyandot chief and a smaller Indian who were standing with their rifles cocked but looking in another direction.
Pete ridge missed him when he shot at the chief and the Indians at once discovered him. Before they could shoot, the scout sprang upon them, seizing both around the neck. The smaller Indian jerked loose first, and while the chief held Joe his companion tried to get in a death blow with his tomahawk. Andrew allowed him to enter close. Then he quickly kicked the Indian's foot in the Indian's stomach, hurling him backward and knocking the hatchet from his hand.
The little Indian got his breath back and recovered his tomahawk, he advanced to the attack again and succeeded in wounding Joe in the arm. A second later the scout pulled his knife from the wound in the chief, seized one of the Indian's guns and shot the warrior as he advanced to attack him a third time. Joe was no longer fighting against odds and he immediately attacked the chief.
The ground was wet and slippery. In another moment the Indian and the white man, locked in each other's arms, fell into the water and each began trying to drown the other. Finally Joe seized his enemy by the scalp lock and held it under water until he believed the chief was dead.
When he released the hold, however, the redskin recovered the struggle.
Pete ridge missed him when he shot at the chief and the Indians at once discovered him. Before they could shoot, the scout sprang upon them, seizing both around the neck. The smaller Indian jerked loose first, and while the chief held Joe his companion tried to get in a death blow with his tomahawk. Andrew allowed him to enter close. Then he quickly kicked the Indian's foot in the Indian's stomach, hurling him backward and knocking the hatchet from his hand.
The little Indian got his breath back and recovered his tomahawk, he advanced to the attack again and succeeded in wounding Joe in the arm. ## Dinner Stories

A captain of an Atlantic liner was bothered by a woman passenger who was always inquiring about the possibility of seeing a whale. As soon as she was asked to have her called if one was in sight.
"But, madam," the captain asked her, rather impatiently, after long suffering in silence, "why are you so eager to see a whale?"
"Captain," she answered, "my desire in life is to see a whale blubber. It must be very impressive to see such an enormous creature cry."

93 BOYS GIVEN WORK BY BUREAU

Webster City, Ia.—A boys' employment bureau, established by the local chamber of commerce last May, has placed 93 boys at work during the summer, according to A. A. Burger, secretary of the chamber.
Much of this employment was for short terms—a day, an afternoon, or a week. However, 21 permanent positions were found for applicants.
A feature of the work is that newspaper publicity was the only advertising given this occupational clearing house.
Among the more usual tasks were lawn mowing, distributing posters, delivering packages, window washing and cleaning yards. Many of the jobs were of a routine nature, but the records divulge an interesting diversity of labors accomplished. One boy spent a week as a temporary office boy; another collected bills; one planted lawn seed; a fourth, of domestic inclinations, was employed to help can straw-berries.
The attitude and versatility of the workmen is attested by the fact that not a single complaint was registered with the chamber by employers.

Scouts Quell Noise, Save Woman's Life

Lincoln, Neb.—A week's night and day patrolling in two hour shifts by twelve members of a local Boy Scout troop, caulking and detouring traffic and passing by in an effort to regain absolute silence surrounding a house in one of the city's busiest districts, resulted in saving the life of Mrs. E. Gardner.
Declared by her physician, Dr. J. M. Mayhew to be near death, resultant from an attack of poisoning and near suffocation, she was saved by the timely arrival of the Scouts.
The car carrying the Scouts leaves Edgerton daily about 1:30, p. m., reaching Janesville at 2:30, in time for connections to Chicago. Returns at about 3:45 from Janesville. Fare 75 cents each way. George W. Stricker, Phone 229 Black or 203 Blue.

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes

THE Calf of the Leg

Ever since short skirts have been in fashion one has noticed a peculiarly very pretty woman. That is, the leg seems to begin at the ankle and goes straight up without a curve or a distinctly rounded calf. It is a distance as the skirt reveals it, which, parenthetically, in these days is no inconsiderable distance.
Many women who weigh about what they should and who live moderately active lives are badly developed in the calf of the leg and the ankle. There seems to be no particular reason for this unless it is that they have never taken sufficient leg exercises.
There are several exercises which will correct this condition. One is dancing, which is splendid for developing the calf of the leg particularly, and the whole body as well. Another exercise is swimming, and still another tennis playing, and still another which any woman can practice, is as follows:
Stand as much on the toes as possible, either in your stocking feet or in a pair of heelless, soft-soled bedroom slippers that will allow the toes to spread. Raise yourself up on the toes, remain so for 20 seconds, relax so the body rests on the entire foot once more. Repeat this 30 or 40 times and practice it twice a day as an exercise. At the same time train yourself to walk about the room while you are dressing as much on your toes as you can manage. Practice this exercise until you develop the calf of the leg.
Rubby—You will be able to do this by using the house shampoo.
Worried—If the hair splits, singeing will stop this and help it to grow. There is no particular time for doing this. There used to be a superstition that hair should be trimmed in the first quarter of the moon, possibly by that is what you allude to. Practice the arms, using all the strenuous motions that will tense the muscles, as in rowing. This should make them more shapely.
It V—You are 25 pounds overweight; if you need direction on reduction, send a stamped addressed envelope. The reply will come by mail. Please send it every night to equalize the circulation, or massage with a tonic that is suited to this condition.

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in love with a young man, and I have tried repeatedly to get him to stop, but he says it is impossible. Do you think this is a sign of a weak will? I think if he is unable to control himself in little things that he will be unable to cope with the bigger things of life. Am I right? He has repeatedly declared his love and I do not care to give him up. Can you advise me, ANTI.

I think you are placing too much importance on the fact that your fiance smokes. The habit will never do him any good, but if it does not hurt him any more than it does not, you have no cause to worry.
To insist upon his giving up something which gives him so much pleasure would be infringing on his personal rights. It seems to me that his will power in other ways as well as by the fact that he says it is impossible to give up smoking. If he is weak-willed in many respects, you certainly have cause to worry.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl of 15. I am the only girl and have two brothers older than I. My mother is a widow and she keeps boarders, but she needs some one to help her pay the bills. My brothers won't help her and so I want to. I help her do all the work and in the afternoon I have spare hours in which I could make some money. Could you tell me some way I could make money at home? I do nice crochet and tatting and I sell it, but I can't find any one to buy it. If you would tell me some way to make some money at home I would never forget it.

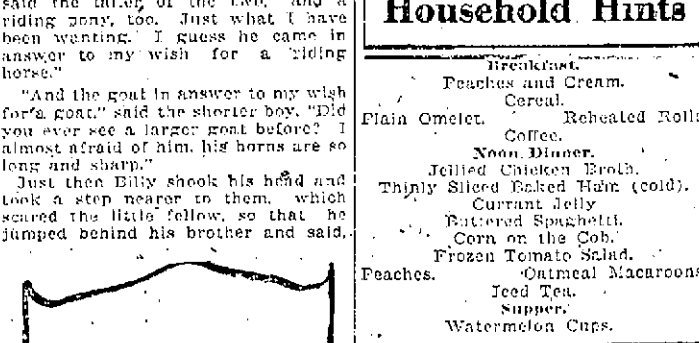

WANT TO BE A HELPER.
The market for tatting and crochet work is small. Usually the people

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Frisky saw her chance when she was left unattended and did Billy, and when the farmer's dog ran out and snapped at Frisky's heels she pretended to be frightened and started up so suddenly that she broke the rope around Billy's neck and away they both went down the road lickerish-spill, with Frisky barking, dogs barking, and Billy bleating. Soon Frisky ran over a stump and upset the wagon, broke the shafts and tore the rotten old traces apart so that she was free, and the way she and Billy now ran would have astonished any one who was watching them. They didn't stop until they were out of the farmer's paddock to catch up to them, and even then they took the precaution to stay in a thick woods all day so as to give the peddler plenty of time to take himself off to other parts of the country.

The day after their escape they came out of the woods and trotted along, side by side, until they came to a farm house, and seeing the gate in the lane open, they went in and up the stairs. When they got there they found the door open, so they boldly walked in and began to help themselves to the oats and fodder they found stored there. They were just enjoying themselves when suddenly the outer doors were closed and they again found themselves prisoners, with two round, rosy-faced boys looking at them through the window.
"Any! Just that pony a beauty!" said the taller of the two, and a riding pony, too. Just what I have been wanting. I guess he came in answer to my wish for a "riding horse."
"And the goat in answer to my wish for a goat," said the shorter boy. "I almost afraid of him. His horns are so long and sharp."
Just then Billy shook his head and took a step nearer to the window, which the little fellow, so that he jumped behind his brother and said, "Let's go away or he will butt us."
"Oh, no he won't. Take that untidy lot of you basket and offer it to him and see how gentle he will become. You must walk right up to him though, as if you were not afraid."
As soon as Billy saw the carrot he came forward and Frisky followed, for she too liked carrots. When the large boy saw this, he took an apple out of his pocket and handed it to the

WARNS THE FARMER AGAINST MILK POOL

Equity Plan to Organize One Association Is Not Feasible.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

M. Atkinson.—Hoard's dairyman will print in his next issue an analysis of the American Society of Equity plan to organize the dairyman of the state into a buying and selling body. The dairyman says:

Dues Wisconsin Need Help

Rumors are current that the dairy farmers of Wisconsin are to be organized into a big buying and selling body. The work is supposed to be conducted by the National Dairy Union, and under the auspices of the Wisconsin Society of Equity.

We are not informed upon the purpose and object of this gigantic task, but it seems very strange that the dairyman should be organized into a buying and selling body, when the dairyman is already organized into a buying and selling body.

The announcement that the farmers are to be organized into one great buying and selling body, and that the dairyman is already organized into a buying and selling body, is a very strange thing.

DELANAV SLIPS WIN OVER ON BAKE-RITES IN 14 INNING BATTLE

Battling uphill and doing the score with four runs in the ninth, the Delanav Bradleys forced the Janesville Bake-Rites into a 14-inning scrap at Delanav Sunday. A long fly by Almstutz, scoring M. Wright, brought in the winning tally. The final score was 10 to 2.

The dirty work started when L. Wright singled in the ninth when a home run and cleaned the bases because of Fuglema's error. C. Blok relieved "Ted" Hager in the ninth with a man on second and third. A pretty flycatcher duel followed until Ruckbauer failed to get under Almstutz's fly.
